Dear _____,

My name is _____, and my child attends _____ School. I am interested in starting a Frontier Girls troop at the school and would like to see if it could be offered as part of the school's after-school programming.

Frontier Girls is a scouting-style program for girls ages 3 and up that combines hands-on learning with life skills, leadership, community service, character, and fun. With more than 1,200 badges to choose from, girls can explore STEM, art, health and safety, history, financial literacy, communication, practical life skills, and hundreds of other interests.

I believe a Frontier Girls troop could be a great addition to our school's after-school programs. Instead of focusing on just one subject, Frontier Girls gives girls the opportunity to try something different from week to week. They might conduct a science experiment, create an art project, practice first aid, learn about money, work on communication skills, or plan a service project.

Frontier Girls is specifically designed for multi-age groups, so girls of different grade levels can learn and participate together. Activities are adapted by age, and older girls have opportunities to lead and mentor younger girls.

Frontier Girls' motto is "If you see a need, take the lead." Girls are encouraged to solve problems, take responsibility, help others, and develop skills and confidence they can use at school, at home, and in their communities.

Unlike many scouting programs, there is no national Frontier Girls organization for the school to join. Curiosity Untamed LLC provides the curriculum and licenses the Frontier Girls name and branding, while each troop is operated locally. This gives our school the flexibility to operate the troop within its own after-school program, policies, and goals.

On the following page, you will find more information about what a Frontier Girls troop can offer our school and what a troop needs from a school willing to operate one.

To learn more about Frontier Girls, visit FrontierGirls.com. Questions about the program can be directed to info@frontiergirls.com or you are welcome to call 530-524-8799. I would love the opportunity to meet with you, answer any questions, and discuss whether a Frontier Girls troop might be a good fit for our school's after-school programming.

Sincerely,

Bring Frontier Girls TO YOUR SCHOOL

Hands-on learning. Life skills. Leadership. Fun.

What Frontier Girls Offers Your School

1. Hands-on learning beyond the classroom.
Girls explore science, art, history, outdoor skills, cooking, first aid, financial literacy, and hundreds of other topics through hands-on activities and experiences.

2. Practical skills for life.
Frontier Girls gives girls opportunities to learn useful skills, try new things, solve problems, and become more capable and confident.

3. Leadership across age levels.
Multi-age troops give older girls opportunities to lead and mentor while younger girls learn alongside positive role models.

4. Service to your school and community.
Girls can participate in projects that benefit your school and local community while learning to recognize needs and take action.

5. A flexible, ready-made program.
With more than 1,200 badges and higher awards, your school can choose activities that complement its students' interests, programs, and educational goals.

What We Are Looking For

1. Include the troop in your after-school programming.
The school takes responsibility for how its Frontier Girls troop is operated.

2. Select and oversee leaders and volunteers.
The school selects its Troop Leader and volunteers and determines appropriate screening, background checks, training, and supervision.

3. Provide or approve a place to meet.
The school provides or approves a safe and suitable place for troop meetings.

4. Establish local policies and safety practices.
The school determines its requirements for supervision, safety, activities, permission forms, and other troop operations.

5. Oversee finances and insurance.
The school determines how troop funds and fundraising are handled and what insurance coverage is appropriate. Curiosity Untamed does not provide insurance or financial oversight.
